PROFILE

I have been working as an engineer and developer for almost 4 years. Designing and creating an entire web application for internal use by a large company. As an industrial engineer, I am qualified to understand, improve, automate and optimize the performance of processes and systems. I'm a very optimistic, curious and responsible person who enjoys working in teams. I'm truly proactive, I'm amused by learning new knowledge, and I'm always trying to improve and become a better professional.
